Any Caravans like this passing through Kansas? We have 2 Vets that were otw to DC. Engine is broken down repairs will take forever. If you are passing through they got gas money. Will escort to safety if anything goes down in DC. Add on Parler if you can't reach on here @SendPatriots God Bless (media.patriots.win)

7 Just a heads up this image is from October, though I'm sure you'll be seeing a good number of similar caravans as you get closer to dc

1 The point of this post isn't about the image that everyone seems to freaking out about. Not sure why everyone is freaking out about the image being old. Never said this was a caravan from today. Why is this a big deal to people ffs we're trying to get our team to dc and people are worried about the image like wtf

3 No one's freaking out. On a board this big, people have made new accounts and tried nefarious shit. Not you, other people.

So if you post "I'm headed to DC," then a pic from Oct, without saying "pic from Oct, btw," your post now has a small thing in common with posts intending harm.

Just a thing to know 👍

The Donald is behind you 100%. Post what you posted, or any questions about conditions, news, status, and people here will swarm to your aid.

Love you, brother - Let's Go! 🇺🇸 🇺🇸 🇺🇸

▼ Oops, never mind – that is obviously freaking out, lol. That's what I get for running my mouth before I know what I'm talking about. Brutal, lol.

I think motherfuckers are kind of on edge, but obviously just need to take a breath or something 😊

God be with you guys

▼ I'm not tryna be a dick to you lol you're just like the 5th person to say something about the picture idk why Imao we've posted this a few times today and a bunch of people are freakin out over the pic lol is there like a rule against posting pictures that aren't from today or something? Just not sure why people are so focused on the image instead of the post yk?

▼ It's not posting the image that I think most people, at the very least me, have a problem it's more stopping the disinformation on this being from today or for the dc event more than anything. A lot of people are reposting thinking it's the caravan going from California to dc when it's not.

Edit: but you're fine, we're in a big info war right now and a lot of people do freak out with this stuff. I just wanted to post what I knew Incase you or someone else didn't know about this image

▼ Aw sorry that one biting your head off was meant for someone else on another post. I'm not kidding people are freakin out about this picture saying it's a set up or something, it's annoying. But that wasn't intended for you. Someone else was being weird on one of the other posts just like this that was made. Just got me in a moment of frustration when we're dealing with blown engines and people stranded and someone's freakin out about a picture. But apologies that dickheadedness wasn't supposed to be fired in your direction.
